

London Bridge

SAMPLE SCRIPT

EXT- GIN HOUSE: LONDON BRIDGE - NIGHT.

Two men and a young girl stagger up and knock at the door. One man is blind drunk. Looking around, Gail spots her chance, slides up and swaying, takes the drunken man's arm.

ON: THE CHILDREN, WATCHING FROM THE SHADOWS

JACOB

She's not going in there!

CHARLIE

She is!

MEADOW

Pitter, patter raindrops...

DANIEL

It's not that bad!

JACOB

-Yet!

DANIEL

Her boyfriend's snooping round the back: he doesn't know.

JACOB

One of us should go warn him.

CHARLIE

You're all talk, you two!

Charlie's off and Meadow after before the boys can stop them. Gail has entered the Gin shop. Daniel and Jacob look exasperated. The rest of Tyler's gang reach the front door.

JACOB

Reckon this is getting too much like a co-incid... Co-in... What's that word?

DANIEL

I don't know! Are we going in or what?

JACOB

We helping now?

DANIEL

Want the girls to show us up?
